Dear Sir

I hand you herewith sundry papers relative to the church - There is a box in the vestry room of St. James's church, containing old account books of collectors of pew-rents, & some other papers, which W. Crumpton delivered to me - & which you will be good enough to consider as hereby handed to you - There is nothing of value in it that I know of - There is also a number of the books containing the charter & by-laws of the vestry, in the same place - which are hereby transferred to you -

Very sincerely dear Sir

your friend & Br Xn
